Dear Brothers & Sisters:

RE: Black History Month

February is Black History Month also known as African Heritage Month. It is celebrated in Canada to recognize the contributions of peoples of African heritage to the growth and development of this country and their importance to Canada's history.

As part of promoting the contributions of peoples of African heritage to the labour movement, throughout the month of February, the PSAC will post on the National website articles reflecting the history and contributions of workers of African heritage. I invite you to review the PSAC website and celebrate the valuable contributions made to our union and our country.

PSAC members of African heritage through their actions and dedication have helped advance the PSAC, and put us in the forefront in the struggle for human rights and equality. Their strength, courage and vibrancy are exemplified in the success of the union in negotiations, membership representation, political advocacy and the various committees, including the Equal Opportunities and Human Rights committees.

This month and every month the PSAC, is proud to work with our members of African heritage as we build a strong diverse movement for social change.

In Solidarity,

Robyn Benson
